NOTICE

EDUCATIONAL/SUPPORT MEETING FOR PATIENTS LIVING WITH IMMUNE DISORDERS

Tuesday, October 4, 2011

6:30 TO 9:30 PM

VENUE: Oliver & Bonacini Café & Grill
2901 Bayview Avenue
(located in Bayview Village Shopping Centre)

Guest Speaker:

Paul Keith, MD, FRCPC

Division of Clinical Immunology & Allergy
McMaster University Health Centre
Associate Professor, Department of Medicine
Hamilton, Ontario

The Canadian Immunodeficiencies Patient Organization (CIPO) is pleased to invite patients living with immune disorders, their families, doctors & nurses and other medical staff to a social/educational meeting/dinner.

Before the dinner there will be a presentation by Dr. Paul Keith and an opportunity for those attending to ask general questions about immune disorders, and current and treatments. We will also provide free educational material.

Most of all, this is a wonderful opportunity to meet other patients living with immune disorders, and their families, and also to learn more about your particular disorder, latest research, and present and future treatments.

Attendance of family, friends and children is welcome, and encouraged. However we request that all those attending register to ensure adequate seating.

Dinner is provided free of cost, and there is no cost for parking. However, registration is necessary to ensure adequate seating. You can register via email (soft copy available on web site-address below), or by phone.
